

Getting the love you want

Based on Harville Hendrix's best-selling book of the same name, Imago workshops were developed over a 16 year period. This workshop is offered around the world as a stand alone experience or an adjunct to relationship therapy. It is an intensive experience that provides the education, context and tools for understanding what is happening, repairing difficulties, and a path to deepening connection.

In the workshop, we will help you:

- See conflict not only as a problem, but as a great opportunity for growth
- Make sense of the impact of your history on your adult relationships
- Get to the root of your struggles and better deal with the suffering and hurt you may carry.

Workshop Review:

'A transformational experience to take your relationship to the next level. A blending of theory & practice to discover the hidden motivations behind your attraction & behaviour. Some workshops promise a lot, this one delivers.' Aaron
